Receiver for Arthur Lamar Adams and Madison Timber Properties, LLC

Introduction

For many years Arthur Lamar Adams, through his companies Madison Timber Company, LLC and Madison Timber Properties, LLC, operated a Ponzi scheme that defrauded hundreds of investors. On May 9, 2018, Adams pleaded guilty to the federal crime of wire fraud. On October 31, 2018, he was sentenced to 19.5 years in prison.

On June 22, 2018, the Court appointed me receiver of the estates of Adams and Madison Timber. The order of appointment sets forth my responsibilities and duties and provides that I shall receive reasonable compensation and reimbursement from the Receivership Estate.¹ The Court instructed me to file a fee application “[w]ithin 30 days after the end of every 60-day period while the Receivership is in effect.”² On August 17, 2021, the Court authorized me “to report to the Court, and file any fee applications, on a quarterly basis.”³

This is my fee application for the approximately 90-day period beginning June 1, 2021 and ending August 31, 2021. It contains the following parts:

	page
Receivership fee applications, generally	3
Pre-established billing parameters	4
Receivership Estate’s fees and expenses	5
Conclusion	8
Receiver’s declaration	9

The Securities and Exchange Commission has received and reviewed this fee application. It has no objections.

² Doc. 43 at p. 2, Securities & Exchange Commission v. Adams, et al., No. 3:18-cv-00252 (S.D. Miss.).

Receivership fee applications, generally

A receiver's duties "are unique to the facts and circumstances of each case."⁴ It follows that a receiver's fees and expenses vary with the facts and circumstances of each case. The appointing court has broad discretion to determine the reasonableness of a receiver's fees and expenses.⁵

As before, in the course of preparing this fee application, I reviewed fee applications submitted by receivers in other Ponzi scheme cases, including Securities and Exchange Commission v. Stanford International Bank, Ltd., et al., No. 09-cv-0298 (N.D. Tex.) ("Stanford"); U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission v. Trevor Cook, et al., No. 09-cv-3332 (D. Minn.) ("Cook/Kiley"); and Securities and Exchange Commission v. John Scott Clark et al., No. 1:11-cv-46 (D. Utah) ("Clark").

Fee applications vary in format but provide the same basic content: a summary of work to-date, a statement of hours expended by professionals, a calculation of professional fees based on applicable hourly rates, a statement of expenses incurred in the ordinary course of business, and a declaration that all fees and expenses are accurate and reasonable. I provide the same basic content here.

Although fee applications are filed in the court's public record, the underlying records of each professional's time typically are not. This is because such records necessarily include confidential information (such as victims' names) and information subject to attorney-client or other privileges. To publish such information in the court's public record also would risk disclosing the receiver's legal strategies to defendants. For these reasons, I provide underlying records of each professional's time only to the Court.

This fee application is for the approximately 90-day period beginning June 1, 2021 and ending August 31, 2021. As before, I offer the following context:

⁴ 7 Bus. & Com. Litig. Fed. Cts. § 79:48 (4th ed.).

⁵ "It is well settled that such allowances are largely within the discretion of the district court . . ." Commodity Credit Corp. v. Bell, 107 F.2d 1001, 1001 (5th Cir. 1939).

The Stanford receiver's nineteenth fee application, filed in 2012, asked for a total of $2,036,893.31, reflecting $1,100,116.71 in fees and expenses for two months' worth of general estate work and, separately, $1,121,492.20 in fees and expenses for four months' worth of claims process work. The Court granted the Stanford receiver's fee application, applying a 10% holdback for certain expenses.⁶ Of course, at $7.2 billion, the Stanford Ponzi scheme was considerably bigger than the Ponzi scheme in this case.

The Cook/Kiley Ponzi scheme, at $190 million, is closer in size. The Cook/Kiley receiver's twentieth fee application, for November and December 2012, asked for $257,022.85 in fees for two months' work. That fee application was paid in full.⁷

The Clark Ponzi scheme, at $47 million, was considerably smaller than the Ponzi scheme in this case. The Clark receiver's nineteenth fee application, filed in 2016, asked for a total of $10,376.50 in fees for three months' work. That fee application was paid in full.⁸

The Court's order of appointment provides that I shall bill at $275 an hour, and that my counsel shall bill at rates not to exceed $275 an hour, with the exception of Brent Barriere, who shall bill at $325 an hour.⁹

The Court's order of appointment authorizes me to incur expenses and make payments as in the ordinary course of business of the Receivership Estate¹⁰ and, separately, to employ persons to assist me in carrying out my duties as Receiver.¹¹

⁶ Doc. 1734, Securities & Exchange Commission v. Stanford International Bank, Ltd., et al., No. 3:09-cv-0298 (N.D. Tex.).

⁷ Doc. 981, U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission v. Trevor Cook, et al., No. 09-cv-3332 (D. Minn.).

⁹ Doc. 33 at p. 4, Securities & Exchange Commission v. Adams, et al., No. 3:18-cv-00252 (S.D. Miss.).

¹⁰ Doc. 33 at p. 7–8, Securities & Exchange Commission v. Adams, et al., No. 3:18-cv-00252 (S.D. Miss.).

¹¹ Doc. 33 at p. 8, Securities & Exchange Commission v. Adams, et al., No. 3:18-cv-00252 (S.D. Miss.).

Any compensation or reimbursement “will be interim and will be subject to cost-benefit and final reviews at the close of the receivership.”¹² Any fee application may, in the Court’s discretion, be subject to a holdback in the amount of 25%.¹³

Receivership Estate’s fees and expenses

Fees

The Receivership Estate’s fees, including Receiver’s fees and Receiver’s counsel’s fees, for the approximately 90-day period beginning June 1, 2021 and ending August 31, 2021 are:

	Rate	Hours	Total
Receiver’s fees
Alysson Mills	$275	35.38	$9,729.50
Receiver’s counsel’s fees
Brent Barriere	$325	5.5	$1,787.50
Lilli Bass	$275	7.5	$2,062.50
Kristen Amond	$220	25.75	$5,665.00
Fishman Haygood, other attorney	$275	7.8	$2,145.00
Paralegal	$150	3.2	$480.00
			$21,869.50

These fees are for work described in my Receiver’s Reports filed on June 30, 2021 and September 30, 2021.¹⁴ In addition to litigating the lawsuits styled Alysson Mills v. Butler Snow, et al., No. 3:18-cv-866; Alysson Mills v. BankPlus, et al., No. 3:19-cv-196; Alysson Mills v. The UPS Store, Inc., et al., No. 3:19-cv-364; and Alysson Mills v. Trustmark, et al., No. 3:19-cv-941 (see “Contingency fee cases—hours not billed,” below), my colleagues and I continued to administer business of the Receivership Estate. During the approximately 90-day period beginning June 1, 2021 and ending August 31, 2021, my colleagues and I: finally closed the sale of the last 100 acres of undeveloped land in Lafayette County, Mississippi, formerly owned by Oxford Springs, LLC, for $540,000; attempted to execute the Receivership Estate's $3,473,320 judgment against Bill McHenry following the denial of his petition for bankruptcy discharge, including by obtaining writs of execution to seize his known assets and a court order to conduct a judgment debtor exam; administered the Receivership Estate's equitable advance to qualified applicants; continued to monitor recruiter defendants' compliance with settlement agreements; continued to communicate with investors in Madison Timber via phone, letter, and email. Time records for the approximately 90-day period beginning June 1, 2021 and ending August 31, 2021 shall be separately provided to the Court for in camera review.

Of the hours recorded above, 20.9 hours, or $4,632.50, were spent on the lawsuit Alysson Mills v. Michael D. Billings, et al., No. 3:18-cv-679. In the Billings case we already obtained settlements from Wayne Kelly and Mike Billings worth approximately $2,000,000 and $800,000, respectively, and obtained a judgment against Bill McHenry for $3,473,320. The hours recently recorded reflect time spent attempting to execute the Receivership Estate's judgment following the denial of McHenry's petition for bankruptcy discharge, including by obtaining writs of execution to seize his known assets and a court order to conduct a judgment debtor exam. We litigate cases such as this on an hourly fee basis because they are not time- or cost-intensive, therefore we believe a contingency fee would be unfair to the Receivership Estate.

My colleagues and I are sensitive to the Receivership Estate's limited resources and we hope our fees reflect that. We have not charged for work that we believe was duplicative. We have not charged for travel. Our agreed-upon rates generally are lower than market rates.

Expenses

The Receivership Estate's expenses for the approximately 90-day period beginning June 1, 2021 and ending August 31, 2021 are:

Printer and copier charges	$0
Express mail and postage	$195.30
Westlaw research and PACER fees	$23.40
Filing fees (Oxford Springs)	$145.00
Service of process	$155.00

Other (courier)

$38

$556.70

Most of these expenses are self-explanatory and are the kinds of expenses typically incurred in any legal matter.

Contingency fee cases—hours not billed

In addition to the hours reported above, my counsel and I have recorded a total of 3,394.56 hours on the lawsuits Alysson Mills v. Butler Snow, et al., No. 3:18-cv-866; Alysson Mills v. BankPlus, et al., No. 3:19-cv-196 (S.D. Miss.); Alysson Mills v. The UPS Store, Inc., et al., No. 3:19-cv-364 (S.D. Miss.); and Alysson Mills v. Trustmark, et al., No. 3:19-cv-941 (S.D. Miss.). I have not billed the Receivership Estate for this time. I believe billing the Receivership Estate for the time spent on these and possibly other lawsuits will deplete the Receivership Estate's limited resources. Vigorous litigation against well-resourced defendants makes lawsuits such as these costly.

In the interest of conserving the Receivership Estate's limited resources, my counsel has agreed to represent the Receivership Estate in these lawsuits on a contingency fee, or success-based, arrangement. Fishman Haygood, LLP shall advance all costs and out-of-pocket expenses and bear the entire risk of any losses. This arrangement is consistent with the Court's order of appointment¹⁵ and separate order regarding fee arrangement.¹⁶

Of course any fee arrangement is subject to the continuing oversight of the Court—and any fees paid by the Receivership Estate, whether on an hourly basis or as a contingency fee, are subject to the Court's review and approval at an appropriate time. No contingency fee will be paid without proper notice and application.

¹⁶ Doc. 154, Securities & Exchange Commission v. Adams, et al., No. 3:18-cv-00252 (S.D. Miss.).

Conclusion

I believe our team is providing excellent value for cost—particularly when viewed in the context of other receiverships, which at this point cost many multiples more per day.

Today, after a more than $17 million first distribution to Madison Timber’s victims, the Receivership Estate has $1,732,935.79 in the bank.

The Receivership Estate’s four biggest lawsuits (see “Contingency fee cases—hours not billed,” above) today are its most valuable assets. I anticipate that the next few months will require substantial work by counsel, and possibly experts, as we prosecute those lawsuits. Fishman Haygood, LLP of course advances all costs and out-of-pocket expenses in those lawsuits, but I nevertheless closely monitor all work for inefficiencies and unnecessary expense.
